Karen Justice, ChFC, CLU, MSFS, Registered Investment Advisor, is the founder and owner of Justice Financial Advising, Inc. in Bisbee, Arizona. As the only fee based advisor in the county, Justice focuses her attention on the financial portfolios of her clients, helping them maintain their financial focus so that other distractions don't prevent them from achieving what is important to them and their families both now and in the future. She provides successful individuals with personalized, objective financial advice, coordinating their financial activities with other professionals, such as their attorney and accountant, so they collectively can help their mutual client implement smarter tax planning strategies and make improved investment decisions for their overall benefit. She works with her clients to provide a clear plan of action that leaves them in control.

Justice says, "I consider my clients unique and they aren't going to get a cookie cutter solution from me. My clients don't fit in pie charts. I custom make an investment portfolio for each client. Many financial planners are limited by the products they are able to sell. My work is fee based and, since I don't sell any products, I don't have any limitations. I'm here to give an objective opinion about how a person should structure their financial portfolio."

It takes only a brief conversation with Justice to be impressed with the breadth of her knowledge, but also to understand that she is an energetic, adventuresome, free spirited individual that enjoys life as much as she enjoys helping her clients. She has served in various capacities for numerous non-profit organizations and finds she has a heart for giving as well as a high level of expertise to also assist her clients in the most effective charitable giving strategies.

Justice has been featured on radio and has spoken at numerous educational events and seminars including the Hispanic Women's Conference.
